
Peer Review Information and Acknowledgments

Each year the ACC Peer Review Committee is formed by a call for qualified people willing to perform the scholarly act of peer review. The peer review volunteers come from chiropractic colleges, national organizations, other health care institutions, and private practice, resulting in a team with a wide variety of specialties and experience.

Each paper is assigned to a variety of people with expertise in a given topic area and/or unique critical appraisal skills. The electronic submissions are screened for viruses, and assigned blinding numbers. They are then distributed electronically such that no paper is given to a reviewer from an author of the same institution and that the peer reviewers for any given paper come from different institutions or affiliations.

For the 2004 Conference, most peer reviewers critiqued five different papers and each paper was critiqued by a minimum of three different reviewers. Based on the data from the tally sheets and the peer reviewer comments, decisions were made regarding categorization of submissions for the conference. All primary authors received a copy of their tally sheets and peer reviewers' comments, regardless of the decision of acceptance to the conference. This feedback process is intended to encourage scholarship and to guide authors in improving the quality of their work.

This year was the second year that the peer reviewers received the tally sheets and comments from the others who reviewed the same submissions. The intention is for this process to assist in the continued improvement of the quality of the peer review process.

The ACC 2004 Peer Review Committee succeeded in doing an excellent job. They are commended for their contribution to the continued improvement of this conference.
