

---

The Journal of Chiropractic Education

---

VOLUME 23, NUMBER 2

FALL 2009

- 121 Editorial: It Takes a Village: The Team Effort Behind The Journal of Chiropractic Education
Bart N. Green

ORIGINAL ARTICLES

- 123 Usefulness of CanMEDS Competencies for Chiropractic Graduate Education in Europe
Martin Wangler
- 134 Integrated Neuroscience Program: An Alternative Approach to Teaching Neurosciences to Chiropractic Students
Xiaohua He, James La Rose, and Niu Zhang
- 147 Educating Chiropractic Students About Intraobserver and Interobserver Variability Through the Use of Skinfold Measurement
Marc P. McRae

LITERATURE REVIEW

- 151 Importance of Building Confidence in Patient Communication and Clinical Skills Among Chiropractic Students
Mark D. Hecimovich and Simone E. Volet

EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH IN ACTION

- 165 Student-Generated Case Reports
Christopher J. Good

COMMENTARY

- 174 The Digital Bridge: A Boomer's View of Course Management Software in the Gen Y Classroom
Michael W. Shreeve